ascertain the incidence of drug addiction in the country. However limited studies conducted in 31 cities and 2 border areas to find the major socio-economic factors contributing to drug abuse have indicated that unemployment, poverty, family environment, stress and strains of life, peer group pressures and curiousity are the main reasons of drug addiction.

(c) The Government has taken following steps to deal with the problems of drug abuse:—

(i) Under the Scheme of Assistance of Voluntary Organisations for Prohibition and Drug Abuse Prevention sponsored by the Ministry of Welfare 112 counseling centres, 44 de-addiction centres and 10 after-care centres have been set up in States and Union Territories for providing counselling, de-addiction and after-care services to the drug addicts.

(ii) Financial assistance is also provided to voluntary organisations for undertaking awareness building programmes for prevention of drug abuse.

(iii) Print and electronic media are used for creating awareness against the evil of drug abuses.

(iv) The Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances Act, 1985 and the Prevention of Illicit Traffic in Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances Act, 1988 are in force in the country and are being implemented by the concerned agencies.

Voluntary bodies engaged in de-addiction

487. SHRI SHIV PRATAP MISHRA: Will the Minister of WELFARE be pleased to state:

(a) what are the names of voluntary bodies in the country which are engaged in the work of de-addiction as on the 31st October, 1991; and

(b) what assistance is being provided by Government to such bodies to help in their work?

THE MINISTER OF WELFARE (SHRI SITARAM KESRI). (a) A statement is laid on the Table of the House. (See below).

(b) Financial assistance to the extent of 90 per cent of expenditure, as per approved norms is provided to the voluntary organisations for running counselling, de-addiction, and after care centres and for awareness building programmes under the scheme of "Assistance to Voluntary Organisations for Prohibition and Drug Abuse Prevention".
